

8th Annual ACPO Excellence in Policing Conference

EIP

Confidence in the New Performance Landscape: New Roles, New Responsibilities

Monday 21st and Tuesday 22nd September
NPIA Conference Centre
Ryton-on-Dunsmore, Coventry

The annual ACPO EIP conference is run by the service for the service to develop understanding of the current and future issues in policing.

This year's event will explore the responses to the policing Green Paper; the need to improve productivity; realise efficiencies; and build public confidence. Particular emphasis will be given to changes in accountability and performance management from the neighbourhood to national level that incorporate perception-based assessments, improvements in value for money and remaining truly citizen focused.

understanding performance

- What are the roles and responsibilities of the Home Office, HMIC and Police Authorities in the new performance landscape?
- How well are the new arrangements working?
- How will this affect police forces and authorities?

building public confidence

- How is the service building public confidence?
- How are forces meeting policing pledge commitments?
- From neighbourhood to national - how are services becoming more citizen focused?

understanding people & services

- Do we really understand the people we serve?
- What are forces doing to improve productivity and efficiency?
- How should performance information be used to improve delivery?

At a time of radical reform in policing, EIP assists police managers, police authorities, community safety partners and key stakeholders to keep up to date with the most important developments in policing and community safety. The programme features keynote addresses from influential figures, together with a wide range of case studies, presentations and workshops on the most significant issues.

EIP works in partnership with NPIA to provide value for money whilst maintaining the highest standards of content in a modern comfortable environment. Delegate prices have been held at 2008 levels.

For further details and booking information visit:

www.eip-conference.co.uk

